Harriman's Millions. The estate left by E. H. Harriman has finally been simmered down to $71,000,000, and it looks strange to some observers that the leavings of so many rich men have been about that figure, Cornelius Vanderbilt left $72,500,0000,

Jay Gould $72,000,000, and J. Stewart Kennedy $70,000,000. The estates of Harriman Kennedy and H. H. Rogers, $35,000,00 have paid the state of New York $2,176,000 for inheritance taxes, and the regular increase of state taxes for the people to pay outside of the inheritance list has been sustained all the time. There is a mystery as to where the millions the state thus in-

The varied attacks that retarded the progress of rebuilding the Pawcatuck Valley Street railroad have tended to sidetrack the interests that are planness and rowboats, and the national Valley Street railroad have tended to sidetrack the interests that are planning to delay with hope of defeating the vote of the people to cut down Cookey Hill and lower the grade of Union street several feet. With the trolley trouble settled by the courts, attention of the objectors now comes back to the proposed changes in Union street, and search is being made for new weapons of attack. This grade matter has been extensively considered at three sessions of the financial town meeting and even more of the Westerly town council, with the result that the taxpayers in town meeting voted in favor of the project and made the necessary appropriation, and the town council appointed a committee to carry out the wishes of the people as determined in town meeting. Up to the present time not a spoonful of dirt has been removed from the hill in connection with the work and there has been no evidence to indicate that the work was to be commenced, although survey was made and maps and working plans prepared two months ago.

At the regular meeting of the council the first Monday in July it was and working plans prepared two months ago.

At the regular meeting of the council the first Monday in July it was decided that the work would not be commenced until a hearing had been given the owners of property abutting on the street, and the time for hearing was set for the first Monday in August, which of course caused an additional delay of one month.

All the detail of the work has been ascertained, including the damages to be paid, and in order to facilitate the work estimates of the cost have been ascertained from local contractors. But it was set up that the statutes require that abutting property owners be given a hearing, and in view of what has already been done in a preliminary way the hearing should be merely a formality, unless the objectors can devise some way for a continuance of delay.

Edward T. Brown, president of the Brown Cotton Gin company, of New London, and his son, George T. Brown, secretary of the company, were in Westerly Monday morning en route to Narragansett Pier in an automobile on a business trip. The Browns will soon engage in the manufacture of automobiles on a hig scale. Their demonstrating car recently returned from a trip to Chicago and worked satisfactorily. The car traveled since its construction over 1,250 miles and it was not necessary to make a single adjustment. President Brown said that the severe tests all proved satisfactory and that now a touring body was to be put in place and show the general style of the newest automobile.

D., who comes here from Terry-ville, Father Cunningham going to St. Thomas' church, Waterbury. He has been pastor of St. Michael's for two years and a quarter and in that time has collected $20,000, and without any apparent effort or hardship on the part of his parishioners. When he assumed the pastorate there were many outthe partsmoners. When he assumed the pastorate there were many outstanding debts, but these have all been paid and, save the $7,000 debt upon the church property, Father Neale will begin his pastorate with accounts balanced and about $800 in the church treasury.

NEW BALLOT USED

FOR FIRST TIME. Annual Borough Election Attracted Many from Nearby Towns.

(Special to The Bulletin.) Stonington, July 25.—In the annual borough election here today the new ballot was used for the first time in Monday on building a new macadam road from the Watch Hill road along the state, and the election officials found it most satisfactory. A total of 191 votes was cast, of which it was found necessary to throw out nine because of defacement. There was much scratching.

The polls were open from 2 to 4 p. mi At 5.45 the counters had finished their work, and the result of the balleting was announced as follows:

Warden, Cornelius Crandall, d; burgesses, James H. Stivers, r, Charles Brightman, r, John Killars, r, Herman Atwood, d, Eugene Batty, d, Benjamin C. Chesebro, d; clerk and town treasurer, Charles B. States, r and d; tax cellector, Robert L. Burtch, r and d; assessor, Elias B. Hinckley, r and d. The vote cast was fair sized, although slightly smaller than in 1809, when it was 208. The republicans and democrats were evanly divided, while the prohibition votes totalled 18.

Visitors from Norwich, New London and other cities of the state were present and watched with interest the use It is reported from Washington that the division of information, bureau of immigration, is progessing slowly to-ward the goal for which it was created or land "without jumping on some other man's back." The division stirred up a good deal of antagonism at the outset and for quite a while after its doors were opened for business. For a time its existence was threatened. Then its scope was narrowed, but good work is being done and much more

The work of this division ir frequent-ly criticised as "parentalistic." Its friends are asking whether it is any more so than the appointment of a commission to investigate the watering How's Taisf

An Angel Instead of a Soldier. Perhaps called forth by the recent to the briefly profession of Confederate Veterans at Springfield, Mass., by the G. A. R. post there, J. Pinckney Williamson of Petersburg writes to the Springfield Union:

"Let us have peace." I hear that Massachusetts expects at some near date to erect and dedicate a shaft in memory of its brave soldiers near our city. I would suggest that instead of a soldier on top with a gun (we both have been doing too much of that, and it is time to stop gunning), let us mount on that shaft at the battlefield of the Crater an angel with one wing pointing over Poplar grove, where the gallant blue sleep, and the other over old Blandford, where the gray sleep in silence, singing a requiem of rest to the brave dead and breathing a prayer for lasting peace to the living. We agree with the Boston Transcript that it is "a pertinent suggestion," indeed.—Richmon! Times-Dispatch.
